Detailed Biography

Gabriel McPherson is a Seattle native with nearly three decades of professional experience in the performing arts. He holds a B.F.A. in Acting with additional focus in music composition from The Theatre School, DePaul University. He is a member of seven professional unions, including Actors Equity Association, The American Federation of Musicians Local 47 - L.A., and S.A.G.-A.F.T.R.A.

As an actor and musician, Gabriel has toured the country multiple times and played practically every major stage in the 48 contiguous states. He is a founding member of the Seattle-based rock band "Doxology" and has performed with major music acts such as The B-52's, Snoop Dogg, 311, Garbage, and Wyclef Jean.

As a composer, Gabriel has written and orchestrated original scores for over twenty theatrical productions and independent films, including Mary Zimmerman's "Secret in the Wings" and "Metamorphoses," Naomi Iizuka's "Anon(ymous)," Aaron Sorkin's "A Few Good Men," and full-length scores for a dozen Shakespeare productions, including "The Tempest" and "Romeo & Juliet."

Gabriel has been commissioned twice by The Conservatory for Youth Theatre to write new musical adaptations of "Dr. Doolittle" and "The Prince and the Pauper" with his brother Luke McPherson. He is also the recipient of the Cunningham Commission for Youth Theatre and is currently writing a new musical based on the final two books of Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women" trilogy.

A prolific stage and music director, Gabriel has helmed and/or conducted more than 50 major stage productions. He served as The Director of Drama & Technical Theatre at Bellarmine Preparatory School and most recently held the position of Director of Theatrical Arts at Tacoma School of the Arts. He is also a Master Teaching Artist for Tacoma Arts Live and served for ten seasons as Resident Stage and Music Director for The Broadway Center Conservatory Training Program.

Gabriel's recent appearance with Symphony Tacoma at the Pantages Theatre was as Co-Producer, Director, and Narrator for their 2019 hybrid-staged production of Prokofiev's "Romeo & Juliet." He also narrated Peter and the Wolf for symphony Tacoma
